A bit of ye olde faithful here built from cabernet sauvignon and merlot with malbec and cabernet franc. American and French oak help the wine through its slumber before bottle prison time.

Rich, dense, strong dried and stewed fruit scents, not overdone, but thick set in a fog of wood spice, nougat and vanilla, black pepper, choc-mint. Smooth, mint and choc-draped palate with a core of berry essence and sweet clove spice. Good length, set on medium to full bodied, cool, herb and mint finish. This has pleasant drinking, with a touch of old school heft, written all over it.
