Zema Estate Coonawarra Shiraz 2012

This is the best Zema Estate Shiraz in some time. Crucially, the alcohol seems more integrated this vintage, which has been missing in recent years. Dark red, the nose is rich with plum and dark chocolate, everything polished up by slightly obvious vanilla cream oak. It's the palate where everything comes together and this is such a mouthful of a wine – really something to chew on, with quite serious, thick tannins to match. Obviously it is still a puppy and the oak is a little heavy handed but the mouthfeel and weight is more than admirable. Best drinking: 2017-2028+, 18/20, 93/100. 14.5%, $24.95.

Would buy it? I'd go a few glasses.
